NORWICH PHYSICIAN STEELY

Dr. Rush W. Kimball Reads Instructive Paper Before Medical Society—Band Celebrates Its 47th Birthday—Needless Ringing of Fire Alarm—Prospects of Charitable Organization.

Andrew Farrell, who represents Westery on the democratic state central committee, attended the annual meeting for organization in Providence Thursday. Edward Walker of South Kingston, the oldest member of the committee, presided during the session, held in the choice of Frank E. Fitzsimmons of Lincoln as chairman; Peter J. Gaskin of Cumberland, clerk; and George F. O'Shaunessy of Providence, treasurer. William R. Congdon, who has been treasurer for several years, was the unanimous choice of the committee, but he positively declined re-election.

The rules that prevailed in 1909 were adopted for 1910. Chairman Fitzsimmons will later appoint the executive committee of twelve who will direct the affairs of the organization for the ensuing year.

The Rhode Island and Cyclopedia Steam Fire Engine and the Alton Hook and Ladder companies of Westery were represented at the annual meeting of the Rhode Island State Firemen's association, held at the Hotel Providence.

The report of Frederick W. Cady, secretary-treasurer, stated that three associate companies, had been admitted during the year, making the total membership of the association 1,111. The financial balance was just one cent more than a year ago. The receipts amounted to $109.88, which with the balance of $111.91 makes a total of $221.79. The expenditures were $109.88, leaving a balance of $111.92, an increase of one cent.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are: Ira D. Goff, president; Thomas H. Rhodes, Frederick H. Clark, John Hamilton, William A. Brown, J. J. Miller, vice presidents; Frederick W. Cady, secretary and treasurer; George W. Fuller, Julian Closs, A. D. Roberts and L. Whitman, tournament committee. George Hunt was unanimously endorsed as candidate for membership in the state board for the expenditure of the firemen's relief fund. The next quarterly meeting will be held in Arlington.

Chief of Police Bransfield and his force and Chief Engineer Cottrell and his larger force are making a gunshout hunt after the fellow who pulled the lever of fire alarm box 71, at Pleasant and Canal streets, just before 2 o'clock Thursday morning. The alarm was sent in through idiotic mischief or pure carelessness in calling members of the department from their beds to respond to the false alarm. When the firemen arrived at the fire box the assemblage would never have been mistaken for an open-air prayer meeting.

The forty-seventh anniversary of the organization of the Westery band was observed at the business session, at which the following officers were elected: William J. Lord, president; Harry Geary, vice president; Edward F. Card, secretary; William A. Burk, treasurer; Charles O. Gavitt, leader and director; Charles A. Latham, assistant; Richard Muller, librarian; Charles A. Latham, janitor; Harry Geary, property man; C. O. Gavitt, C. A. Latham, W. A. Burk, executive committee; H. Livingston, H. Geary, C. A. Latham, trustees; W. J. Lord, E. F. Card, auditing committee. Mr. Burk has been treasurer of the band for twenty-seven years. Leader Gavitt was presented a handsome silver-mounted baton appropriately inscribed and Secretary Card was given an easy chair by the bandmen in appreciation of the efficient services rendered.

Dr. Rush W. Kimball of Norwich read an instructive paper on Appendicitis at the regular meeting of the Washington County Medical society, held in the Dixon house Thursday. The paper was thoroughly discussed by Drs. M. H. Scanlon, F. C. Pagan, R. B. Smith, John Champlin, W. A. Hillard, J. D. Barber, J. H. Morgan, J. N. Lewis and E. E. Kenyon. Dinner was served immediately after the meeting adjourned.

Delegations from every church and charitable society in Westery and Pawcatuck attended a meeting in the conference room, Public Library and Memorial building, Thursday afternoon and participated in a discussion as to the advisability of having an associated charity organization in Westery. It was the second preliminary meeting, the first merely paying the way and the getting together of representatives of all engaged in public charitable work including the People's mission and St. Vincent de Paul society. Rev. S. M. Cathcart was chairman and Rev. L. Peacock secretary of the meeting.

The committee appointed at the former meeting to submit a plan of organization made report through Chairman Milo Clark and which evoked considerable discussion. The need of such an organization was discussed in detail and the result will be that at an early date there will be a branch of the associated charities in Westery.

Local Laconics.

The Stonington board of assessors has completed its work and the tax bills have been filed with the town clerk.

Fred Barber is trying out an iceboat of his own make on the ice-covered Pawcatuck river. It is without sails and propelled by a ten horse power gasoline engine, the hold on the ice being taken by bicycle sprockets.

MOSQUITOES DID IT.

Largely Responsible for Guilford Losing Location of New State Reformatory.

In explaining the reasons for the locating of the new state reformatory at Cheshire, and the failure to place it at Guilford, which was considered for a time, Max Adler, New Haven, a member of the commission, said that the principal reason why it had been located at Guilford was the fact that the town was too far away from everywhere. Furthermore, he said, the town was not so healthful as was desired. The mosquitoes were so thick you could cut them with a knife, so that it was not a very desirable place to put the reformatory. The plan contemplated the discharge of the sewage from the reformatory in East river, but there was some objection to this river had oysters planted at its mouth, so there was no place that sewage could be disposed of. As a final conclusive reason, Mr. Adler said the commission had not been able to secure options enough on the site in Guilford.

Regarding the connection of County Commissioner Jacob D. Walter with the selection of the Cheshire land, part of which he owned, Mr. Adler said that Mr. Walter did not know for what the land was being bought until after the sale. He negated the charge that the land was being bought for what he owned. Further he said Colonel Tilman had had no knowledge of what the site was which had been bought until after the sale had been made.

PACKAGES IN LOCKER.

Bridgeport Letter Carrier Bound Over to Federal Jury on Several Charges—Cash Involved $2.

Henry E. Keep of Bridgeport, employed as a letter carrier, was bound over to the federal grand jury on Saturday at New Haven by Commissioner of the right in bonds of $500 on the charge of embezzlement, and in default of bail was remanded to jail. It is understood that the amount involved in the case is about $2, but that in connection with the charge of embezzlement several others, such as delaying the mail and interfering with the despatch of registered mail, may be presented.

Keep has not been on the regular force long, but of late has been working the East Side station where there being among the foreign population living in the vicinity of Hallett street. The allegation is that people of this class having registered mail sent entrusted to him, he giving them a receipt for it. This mail he did not send, so it is alleged, and the statement that the discovery that some of these packages in his locker is what led to the arrest.

The discovery was made on Wednesday, resulting in his subsequent arrest and arraignment before the United States commissioner Saturday, when he waived examination and the government presented no evidence to the court. The case will come up before the next federal grand jury.

Y. M. C. A. Building for Meriden.

Officers of the Meriden Young Men's Christian association have made up their minds to begin a building campaign and with this idea in view have asked for estimates on property in the center of the business section.

For several years there has been talk of getting a new home for the young men of the city, but nothing definite was ever done until within a few days, when a committee from the association started out to see what sites can be had. It is believed that within the past few months a good sized fund will have been established and possibly a site will have been purchased.

Other Fellow to Blame.

Senator Carter of Montana, defending the high prices now demanded for meat, takes practically the same stand the foodstuffs magnate assumes when asked the reason why. He blames it on the other fellow. In a recent interview he said the reason the cost of so much is on account of a compulsory change in the manner of raising it.

"In years gone by," he says, "cattle were raised on ranches 100 miles wide and 150 miles long. Today farmers have that land and are killing it. More cattle are being raised today in the west than ever before, but there are not enough. The demand is greater."

The latter is true, but it does not explain why meat at home should cost more than that exported to other countries. But the really amusing portion of his interview is in talking the wheat grower of the west. He seems to forget that, although the farmer may have gobbled up the finest land and be raising more produce, there has been no appreciable reduction in the price of flour. Not that anyone could no longer afford to eat it, but it does not explain why meat at home should cost more than that exported to other countries. THE DANBURY POLICE.

The Rev. W. J. Shanley Scores Them as Inefficient Because of Weak Backing.

"Danbury has the reputation of being a drinking community and intemperance is in Danbury. The police records do not show this, however. Usually the police records of a city are some indication of the amount of intemperance there, but it is not so in Danbury. The police of Danbury will not arrest a drunkard if they can avoid it. They will let him go and let his father raise his salary the other day. I have no objection to their getting higher wages, but I would like to see them earn their salary. If they are efficient why did they not secure some of the flagrant violators of law for years? Why did they allow saloon keepers to sell on Sunday for years? Why did they allow them to sell on Sunday? Why did they allow drug stores to carry on a saloon business, with only a fifty dollar license? Some of them on Sunday are worse than the saloons. Why do they allow all that? If they are efficient? Why do they allow gambling dens to work in full force? Why do they allow the police to let higher wages, but I would like to see them earn their salary. If they are efficient why did they not secure some of the flagrant violators of law for years?
